11:30 AM – 1:00 PM	SESSION I From Gurukul to Clerks' Factory: Ancient Indian Wisdom to Today's Classroom How colonial design dismantled civilisational learning; what Panchatantra's pedagogy and the Gurukul model teach us about values-based education; the Anand Ashram initiative as a living model of recovery.	Civilisational Reading Circle Facilitated peer reading of curated excerpts on ancient Indian education — Gurukul, Nalanda, Takshashila. Small group discussion on which principles remain relevant and recoverable today.
1:00 – 2:30 PM Lunch Break
2:30 – 4:00 PM	Group Activity THE STAKEHOLDER Skit Delegates assigned real roles: Student · Parent · Teacher · State Minister · Cabinet Minister · Policymaker · Media Representative · Autonomous Body · Student Union. Each develops a position on the current state of education from within their role; groups then deliberate toward a shared diagnosis of what is broken and what must change.	The Literacy vs Education Debate Peer-led structured discussion: Are we producing literate graduates or genuinely educated citizens? Are we teaching subjects or merely their history? Is India's dominance in services a symptom of a system that produces compliance over innovation?
4:00 – 4:30 PM High Tea All Participants
4:30 – 6:00 PM	SESSION II The Examination System: What's Broken and What the World Does Better India's examination culture assessed frankly; the paper leak crisis as a symptom of structural failure; global best practices from Finland, Singapore, Japan and Germany; what India can adopt and what it must indigenise.	Sanskhaar & Community Education Forum Peer discussion on the 16 Sanskaar framework as a model for community-embedded education; how traditional knowledge systems can be meaningfully integrated into modern curricula without tokenism.
6:00 – 7:30 PM	SESSION III The Current State of India's Education System: Pre-Primary to Higher Education A ground-level, stage-by-stage assessment: pre-primary, primary, secondary, higher education, and skill education. Structural gaps, unacknowledged strengths, and the NEP 2020 implementation reality.	Future Skillsets Dialogue Peer discussion on what educators and students will need for 2047; education content vs delivery; the role of AI and technology; how the concept of learning will travel from Gen Z to Gen Alpha to Gen Beta.
8:00 PM onwards Cultural Evening & Dinner All Participants Attend
